THE CHALLENGE

Talent shortage, high inflation = margin pressure

01

Rising delivery costs

Employment costs keep rising, squeezing margins

02

Specialist talent is harder to scale

Research, data, CRM, automation and creative skills are scarce and slow to hire

03

Too much execution sits with senior teams

Senior staff lose time to repetitive production work instead of customers and strategy

04

Growth creates operational complexity

More events, customers and systems add inefficient management overhead

The answer is not more headcount. It is more delivery capacity, built where specialist talent is deep and cost-effective.

WHERE THE PRESSURE SITS

Operations backbone. All can run from India.
